Perry Rhew
Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a citizen of Honduras who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The record reveals that the applicant filed a TPS application during the initial registration period on June 7, 1999, under receipt number WAC 99 180 50723. The Director, California Service Center, approved that application on February 24, 2000.

The director may withdraw the status of an alien granted Temporary Protected Status under section 244 of the Act at any time if it is determined that the alien was not in fact eligible at the time such status was granted, or at any time thereafter becomes ineligible for such status. 8.C.F.R. § 244.14(a)(1).

The director withdrew temporary protected status because the applicant had been convicted of two misdemeanors.

On appeal, the applicant requests "another opportunity."

An alien shall not be eligible for temporary protected status under this section if the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or two or more misdemeanors committed in the United States. See Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

8 C.F.R. § 244.1 defines "felony" and "misdemeanor:"

Felony means a crime committed in the United States, punishable by imprisonment for a term of more than one year, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, except: When the offense is defined by the State as a misdemeanor and the sentence actually imposed is one year or less regardless of the term such alien actually served. Under this exception for purposes of section 244 of the Act, the crime shall be treated as a misdemeanor.

Misdemeanor means a crime committed in the United States, either

- (1) Punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or
- (2) A crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section.

For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor. 8 C.F.R. § 244.1.

An alien is inadmissible if he has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude (other than a purely political offense), or if he admits having committed such crime, or if he admits committing an act which constitutes the essential elements of such crime. Section 212(a)(2)(A)(i)(I) of the Act.

The record reveals that the applicant failed to completely fill out his Form I-821, Application for Temporary Protected Status. Specifically, the applicant failed to answer Part 4 Eligibility Standards, question 2d: "Have you been arrested, cited, charged, indicted, fined or imprisoned for breaking or violating any law ordinance, excluding traffic violations or have been the beneficiary of a pardon, amnesty, rehabilitation decree, other act of clemency or similar action."

Pursuant to a notice dated January 22, 2009, the applicant was requested to answer question 2d and return the notice. In response, the applicant submitted a State of North Carolina Johnson County Criminal Record Search. The result of the search was a document which indicated that on September 27, 2000, the applicant was charged with one count misdemeanor of "No Operating License" to which he pled guilty and one count of "Driving While Intoxicated Level 3," to which the applicant pled guilty.

The director withdrew temporary protected status because the applicant had been convicted of two misdemeanors.

On appeal, the applicant requests "another opportunity." The applicant fails to provide any evidence to overcome the basis for the director's denial. Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for temporary protected status will be affirmed.

The applicant is, therefore, ineligible for TPS because of his misdemeanors convictions. 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a). Accordingly, the director's decision to withdraw TPS is affirmed.

The application will be denied for the above stated reasons, with each considered as an independent and alternative basis for denial. An alien applying for temporary protected status has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
