Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be sustained. The AAO will return the matter for further action by the director.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director withdrew TPS because the applicant had been convicted of two misdemeanors in the United States.

On appeal, counsel submits court documentation indicating that one of the applicant's convictions has been set aside because he had not been advised of his rights at the time of his guilty plea.

The director may withdraw the status of an alien granted TPS under section 244 of the Act at any time if it is determined that the alien was not in fact eligible at the time such status was granted, or at any time thereafter becomes ineligible for such status. 8 C.F.R. § 244.14(a)(1).

An alien shall not be eligible for TPS under this section if the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or two or more misdemeanors committed in the United States. See Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

"Misdemeanor" means a crime committed in the United States, either (1) punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or (2) a crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section. For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor. 8 C.F.R. § 244.1.

The record reflects on May 17, 2003, the applicant was arrested by the Sanford Police Department in Florida for refusing to accept sign citation, a violation of FL 316.192(2A), a 2nd degree misdemeanor. On June 2, 2003, the applicant pled guilty to the offense. [REDACTED]

The record also reflects that on November 22, 2003, the applicant was arrested by the Sanford Police Department for larceny, a violation of FL 812.014(3A), a 2nd degree misdemeanor. On December 8, 2003, the applicant pled guilty to the offense. [REDACTED]

On appeal, counsel submits court documents in Case no. [REDACTED] which reflects that on April 19, 2010, a judgment entry was entered and the applicant's guilty plea of June 2, 2003 was vacated as the court did not advise the Defendant of the consequences of his plea as a non-citizen of the United States as required under Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.172(c)(8)."

The Board of Immigration Appeals held that a conviction vacated for failure of the trial court to advise the alien defendant of the possible immigration consequences of a guilty plea is no longer a valid conviction for immigration purposes. Matter of Adamiak, 23 I&N Dec. 878 (BIA 2006).

State rehabilitative actions that do not vacate a conviction on the merits are of no effect in determining whether an alien is considered convicted for immigration purposes. Matter of Roldan, 22 I&N Dec. 512, (BIA 1999).

In this case, the dismissal of the applicant's conviction in [REDACTED] A was vacated on the merits, and was not rehabilitative. Therefore, the applicant was not convicted, for immigration purposes, of the misdemeanor offense of refusing to accept sign citation.

The applicant has one misdemeanor conviction and it does not render the applicant ineligible for TPS under the provisions of section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and the related regulations in 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a). There are no other known grounds of ineligibility; therefore, the director's decision to withdraw the applicant's TPS will, itself, be withdrawn. However, the validity period of the applicant's fingerprint check has expired.

Accordingly, the case will be returned for the purpose of sending the applicant a fingerprint notification form, and affording him the opportunity to comply with its requirements. Following completion of this requirement, the director will render a new decision. Should the decision be adverse, the director must give written notice setting forth the specific reasons for the denial pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(i), and the applicant shall be permitted to file an appeal without fee.

ORDER: The appeal is sustained and the matter is returned for further action by the director.
