IN RE: Applicant: [REDACTED]

APPLICATION: Application for Temporary Protected Status under Section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1254a

ON BEHALF OF APPLICANT:

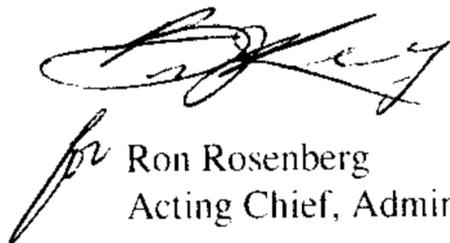

[REDACTED]

INSTRUCTIONS:

Enclosed please find the decision of the Administrative Appeals Office in your case. All of the documents related to this matter have been returned to the Vermont Service Center. Please be advised that any further inquiry that you might have concerning your case must be made to that office.

If you believe the law was inappropriately applied by us in reaching our decision, or you have additional information that you wish to have considered, you may file a motion to reconsider or a motion to reopen. The specific requirements for filing such a request can be found at 8 C.F.R. § 103.5. All motions must be submitted to the Vermont Service Center by filing a Form I-290B, Notice of Appeal or Motion, with a fee of $630. Please be aware that 8 C.F.R. § 103.5(a)(1)(i) requires that any motion must be filed within 30 days of the decision that the motion seeks to reconsider or reopen.

Thank, you,

for Ron Rosenberg
Acting Chief, Administrative Appeals Office

DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn by the Director, Vermont Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The matter will be remanded for consideration and action.

The applicant is a citizen of El Salvador who is applying for Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The record reveals that the applicant filed a TPS application, on June 3, 2012 which was subsequently approved. The director withdrew TPS on May 17, 2011, after determining that the applicant failed to provide requested final court dispositions for an arrest [REDACTED] 2011, and was charged with two drug-related offenses.

On appeal, counsel contends that the applicant is eligible for TPS because the applicant could not have provided the final court dispositions when requested as the charges pertaining to his arrest were pending. Counsel subsequently supplemented the appeal with final court dispositions. In addition, counsel submits a brief.

The director may withdraw the status of an alien granted Temporary Protected Status under section 244 of the Act at any time if it is determined that the alien was not in fact eligible at the time such status was granted, or at any time thereafter becomes ineligible for such status. 8 C.F.R. § 244.14(a)(1).

The AAO has reviewed all of the evidence, and has made a de novo decision based on the record and the AAO's assessment of the credibility, relevance and probative value of the evidence.<sup>1</sup>

The issue in this proceeding is whether the applicant's conviction has been vacated for immigration purposes, and he is eligible for TPS.

Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act provides that an alien shall not be eligible for temporary protected if the Attorney General finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or 2 or more misdemeanors committed in the United States.

Under section 101(a)(48) of the Act:

- (A) The term "conviction" means, with respect to an alien, a formal judgment of guilt of the alien entered by a court or, if adjudication of guilt has been withheld, where-
  - (i) a judge or jury has found the alien guilty or the alien has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere or has admitted sufficient facts to warrant a finding of guilt, and

(ii) the judge has ordered some form of punishment, penalty, or restraint on the alien's liberty to be imposed.

(B) Any reference to a term of imprisonment or a sentence with respect to an offense is deemed to include the period of incarceration or confinement ordered by a court of law regardless of any suspension of the imposition or execution of that imprisonment or sentence in whole or in part

Under the current statutory definition of "conviction" as set forth in section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Act, no effect is to be given in immigration proceedings to a state action which purports to expunge, dismiss, cancel, vacate, discharge, or otherwise remove a guilty plea or other record of guilt or conviction by operation of a state rehabilitative statute. Matter of Roldan, 22 I&N Dec. 512 (BIA 1999). Any subsequent, rehabilitative action that overturns a state conviction, other than on the merits or for a violation of constitutional or statutory rights in the underlying criminal proceedings, does not expunge a conviction for immigration purposes. See id. at 523, 528; see also Matter of Pickering, 23 I&N Dec. 621, 624 (BIA 2003) (reiterating that if a conviction is vacated for reasons unrelated to a procedural or substantive defect in the underlying criminal proceedings, the alien remains "convicted" for immigration purposes).

The record reflects that final court dispositions, dated July 9, 2012, from the Fairfax County, Virginia, reveals a criminal court judge ordered a nolle prosequi on the prosecutor's motion for each of the two drug-related offenses charges pertaining to the applicant's arrest on [REDACTED] 2011. The record does not indicate that the applicant entered a guilty or nolo contendere or has admitted sufficient facts to warrant a finding of guilt

The applicant, therefore, does not have a felony conviction or two misdemeanor convictions, and he is now not ineligible for TPS because of a criminal conviction under section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act.

Therefore, the matter is remanded to the director to examine the record to determine whether the applicant is eligible for TPS, and to issue a new decision. If that decision is adverse to the applicant, it will be certified for review to the AAO pursuant to 8 C.F.R. § 103.4.

As always, the burden of proof in these proceedings rests solely with the applicant. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361.

ORDER: The matter is remanded to the Vermont Service Center director for further proceedings consistent with the above and for a new decision.
