DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who was granted Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director withdrew TPS because the applicant had been convicted of two misdemeanors in the United States.

On appeal, the applicant asserts that he is seeking post-conviction relief. The applicant submits copies of expungement petitions for his convictions.

The director may withdraw the status of an alien granted TPS under section 244 of the Act at any time if it is determined that the alien was not in fact eligible at the time such status was granted, or at any time thereafter becomes ineligible for such status. 8 C.F.R. § 244.14(a)(1).

An alien shall not be eligible for TPS under this section if the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or two or more misdemeanors committed in the United States. See Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

"Misdemeanor" means a crime committed in the United States, either (1) punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or (2) a crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section. For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor. 8 C.F.R. § 244.1.

The term 'conviction' means, with respect to an alien, a formal judgment of guilt of the alien entered by a court or, adjudication of guilt has been withheld, where - (i) a judge or jury has found the alien guilty or the alien has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere or has admitted sufficient facts to warrant a finding of guilt, and (ii) the judge has ordered some form of punishment, penalty, or restraint on the alien's liberty to be imposed. Section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Act.

The record contains court documentation in Case no. [REDACTED] from the San Mateo County Superior Court of California, which indicates that on June 2, 2003, the applicant pled nolo contendere to violating section 23152(b) VC, driving with .08 percent or more alcohol in the blood, a misdemeanor.

The record also contains court documentation in Case no. [REDACTED] from the San Mateo County Superior Court of California, which indicates that on September 23, 2003, the applicant pled nolo contendere to violating section 14601.5(a), driving while license is suspended or revoked for refusing chemical test or driving with excessive blood alcohol content, a misdemeanor.

On appeal, the applicant submits expungement petitions for the above convictions that were filed with the court on June 13, 2011.

Under the statutory definition of "conviction" at section 101(a)(48)(A) of the INA, no effect is to be given in immigration proceedings to a state action which purports to reduce, expunge, dismiss, cancel, vacate, discharge, or otherwise remove a guilty plea or other record of guilt or conviction by operation of a state rehabilitative statute. See Matter of Roldan, 22 I&N Dec. 512 (BIA 1999). Any subsequent rehabilitative action that overturns a state conviction, other than on the merits or for a violation of constitutional or statutory rights in the underlying criminal proceedings, is ineffective to expunge a conviction for immigration purposes. Id. at 523, 528. See also Matter of Rodriguez-Ruiz, 22 I&N Dec. 1378, 1379 (BIA 2000) (conviction vacated under a state criminal procedural statute, rather than a rehabilitative provision, remains vacated for immigration purposes). In Matter of Pickering, the Board of Immigration Appeals reiterated that if a court vacates a conviction for reasons unrelated to a procedural or substantive defect in the underlying criminal proceedings, the alien remains "convicted" for immigration purposes. See Matter of Pickering, 23 I&N Dec. 621, 624 (BIA 2003).

No effect will be given to the expungement orders if evidence is not provided to indicate the above convictions were expunged because of an underlying procedural or constitutional defect in the merits of the cases.

The applicant is ineligible for TPS due to his two misdemeanor convictions. Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a). The applicant's statements made on appeal have been considered. Nevertheless, there is no waiver available, even for humanitarian reasons, of the requirements stated above. Consequently, the director's decision to withdraw TPS will be affirmed.

Finally, while not the basis for the dismissal of the appeal, it is noted the Federal Bureau of Investigation report dated March 10, 2010, reflects that the applicant was also arrested on June 10, 2005, by the Sheriff's Office of Redwood City, California for one count of driving with .08 percent or more alcohol in the blood.

An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
