DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn and an application for re-registration was simultaneously denied due to abandonment by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who was granted Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director withdrew the applicant's TPS because he had failed to submit requested court documentation relating to his criminal record.

On appeal, counsel submits the requested court documents. Counsel asserts that the applicant has only one misdemeanor conviction as the case for the assault charge is still open.

The director may withdraw the status of an alien granted TPS under section 244 of the Act at any time if it is determined that the alien was not in fact eligible at the time such status was granted, or at any time thereafter becomes ineligible for such status. Section 244(c)(3)(A) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.14(a)(1).

An alien shall not be eligible for TPS if the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or two or more misdemeanors committed in the United States. Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

"Misdemeanor" means a crime committed in the United States, either (1) punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or (2) a crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section. For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor. 8 C.F.R. § 244.1.

The term 'conviction' means, with respect to an alien, a formal judgment of guilt of the alien entered by a court or, adjudication of guilt has been withheld, where - (i) a judge or jury has found the alien guilty or the alien has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere or has admitted sufficient facts to warrant a finding of guilt, and (ii) the judge has ordered some form of punishment, penalty, or restraint on the alien's liberty to be imposed. Section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Act.

On appeal, counsel submits;

1. Court documentation in Case no. [REDACTED] from the [REDACTED] of Texas, which indicates that on April 10, 2002 the applicant pled guilty to driving while intoxicated, a violation of [REDACTED] a Class B misdemeanor. The applicant was sentenced to serve 180 days in jail, ordered to pay a fine and court cost and was placed on probation for one year.

2. Court documentation in Case no. [REDACTED] from the Juvenile and [REDACTED], which indicates that on December 1, 2010, the applicant pled nolo contendere to violating Virginia Code, section [REDACTED] upon a family member, a Class 1 misdemeanor. The court found facts sufficient to find guilt, but deferred adjudication/disposition to December 5, 2012. The applicant was placed on probation.

Under the statutory definition of “conviction” at section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Act, no effect is to be given in immigration proceedings to a state action which purports to reduce, expunge, dismiss, cancel, vacate, discharge, or otherwise remove a guilty plea or other record of guilt or conviction by operation of a state rehabilitative statute. See Matter of Roldan, 22 I&N Dec. 512 (BIA 1999). Any subsequent rehabilitative action that overturns a state conviction, other than on the merits or for a violation of constitutional or statutory rights in the underlying criminal proceedings, is ineffective to expunge a conviction for immigration purposes. Id. at 523, 528. See also Matter of Rodriguez-Ruiz, 22 I&N Dec. 1378, 1379 (BIA 2000) (conviction vacated under a state criminal procedural statute, rather than a rehabilitative provision, remains vacated for immigration purposes). In Matter of [REDACTED] the Board of Immigration Appeals reiterated that if a court vacates a conviction for reasons unrelated to a procedural or substantive defect in the underlying criminal proceedings, the alien remains “convicted” for immigration purposes.

In the instant case, the court documentation submitted reflects that the applicant pled nolo contendere to the assault and battery offense, and the judge ordered some form of restraint on the applicant’s liberty. Therefore, for immigration purposes, the applicant has been convicted of the misdemeanor offense within the meaning of section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Act.

The applicant is ineligible for TPS due to his two misdemeanor convictions. Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a). Consequently, the director’s decision to withdraw TPS will be affirmed.

An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal from the withdrawal of the TPS application is dismissed.
