DISCUSSION: The re-registration application was denied by the Director, California Service Center, and is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be dismissed.

The applicant claims to be a native and citizen of Haiti who is seeking Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

The director denied the re-registration application because the applicant had been convicted of two or more misdemeanors in the United States.

On appeal, the applicant acknowledges his criminal convictions, but asserts that “the reason for this reprobate behavior is because I have a mental problem.” To support his assertion, the applicant submits a diagnosis report from the Henderson Behavioral Health of Lauderdale Lakes, Florida. The applicant requests that his application be reconsidered and approved.

An alien shall not be eligible for TPS under this section if the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security finds that the alien has been convicted of any felony or two or more misdemeanors committed in the United States. See Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a).

"Misdemeanor" means a crime committed in the United States, either (1) punishable by imprisonment for a term of one year or less, regardless of the term such alien actually served, if any, or (2) a crime treated as a misdemeanor under the term "felony" of this section. For purposes of this definition, any crime punishable by imprisonment for a maximum term of five days or less shall not be considered a misdemeanor. 8 C.F.R. § 244.1.

The term ‘conviction’ means, with respect to an alien, a formal judgment of guilt of the alien entered by a court or, adjudication of guilt has been withheld, where - (i) a judge or jury has found the alien guilty or the alien has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere or has admitted sufficient facts to warrant a finding of guilt, and (ii) the judge has ordered some form of punishment, penalty, or restraint on the alien's liberty to be imposed. Section 101(a)(48)(A) of the Act.

The record contains the following:

1. Court documentation in Case no. [REDACTED] from the Circuit Court for [REDACTED] Florida, which indicates that on October 15, 2012, the applicant pled no contest to petit theft – less than $300, a violation of Florida Statute 812.014(e), a misdemeanor of the first degree. Adjudication of guilt was withheld and the applicant was ordered to pay court cost.
2. Court documentation in Case no. [REDACTED] from the Circuit Court for [REDACTED] Florida, which indicates that on October 15, 2012, the applicant pled no contest to resist/obstruct without violence, a violation of Florida Statute 843.02, a misdemeanor of the first degree, and trespass structure/conveyance, a violation of Florida Statute 810.08, a misdemeanor of the second degree. Adjudication of guilt was withheld and the applicant was ordered to pay court costs.

The applicant's statements on appeal are noted. The AAO, however, is not the appropriate forum to determine constitutional issues involving the applicant's convictions. Rather, those issues are within the jurisdiction of the judicial court. Furthermore, the AAO may only look to the judicial records to determine whether the person had been convicted of the crime, and may not look behind the conviction to reach an independent determination concerning guilt or innocence. Pablo v. INS, 72 F.3d 110, 113 (9th Cir. 1995); Gouveia v. INS, 980 F.2d 814, 817 (1st Cir. 1992); and Matter of Roberts, 20 I&N Dec. 294 (BIA 1991).

The applicant is ineligible for TPS due to his misdemeanor convictions detailed above. Section 244(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Act and 8 C.F.R. § 244.4(a). Consequently, the director's decision to deny the application for this reason will be affirmed.

An alien applying for TPS has the burden of proving that he or she meets the requirements enumerated above and is otherwise eligible under the provisions of section 244 of the Act. The applicant has failed to meet this burden.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
