DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office (AAO) on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The applicant is a native and citizen of El Salvador who was granted Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254.

On July 19, 2013, the director withdrew TPS because the applicant had failed to submit requested court documentation relating to his criminal record.¹

On appeal, the applicant through counsel does not address the basis for withdrawal of his TPS or provide any evidence to overcome the director's findings. Counsel indicates at Part 2 on the appeal form that a brief and/or additional evidence would be submitted to the AAO within 30 days.²

It is noted that on May 28, 2014, a facsimile was sent to counsel advising him that the record of proceeding contained no evidence of a supplemental brief. Counsel was granted five business days to submit a copy of said brief. To date, no correspondence has been presented by counsel or the applicant. Therefore, the record must be considered complete.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

Inasmuch as the applicant has failed to overcome the director's finding and has failed to identify specifically an erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact as a basis for the appeal, the regulations mandate the summary dismissal of the appeal.

As always in these proceedings, the burden of proof rests solely with the applicant. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.

¹At the time the initial TPS application was filed, the applicant was given alien registration number [REDACTED]. Once it was apparent that the applicant had a prior alien registration number [REDACTED] all the documents from TPS proceedings have been consolidated into the prior A-file.

² Every appeal submitted on the form prescribed by this chapter shall be executed and filed in accordance with the instructions on the form, such instructions being hereby incorporated into the particular section of the regulations in this chapter requiring its submission. 8 C.F.R. § 103.2(a)(1). The Form I-290B instructs the applicant to submit a brief and additional evidence to the AAO within 30 days of filing the appeal.
