DISCUSSION: The applicant's Temporary Protected Status was withdrawn by the Director, Vermont Service Center. The matter is now before the Administrative Appeals Office on appeal. The appeal will be summarily dismissed.

The applicant claims to be a native and citizen of El Salvador who was granted Temporary Protected Status (TPS) under section 244 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (the Act), 8 U.S.C. § 1254. On May 28, 2014, the director withdrew TPS because the applicant failed to: 1) establish that she had continuously resided in the United States since February 13, 2001; 2) establish that she had been continuously physically present in the United States since March 9, 2001; and 3) submit original nationality and identity documents.

On appeal, the applicant through counsel does not address the basis for the withdrawal of her TPS or provide any evidence to overcome the director's findings. The applicant indicates at Part 3.1. on the appeal form that no supplement brief and/or additional evidence will be submitted. Therefore, the record shall be considered complete.

The regulation at 8 C.F.R. § 103.3(a)(1)(v) states, in pertinent part:

Summary dismissal. An officer to whom an appeal is taken shall summarily dismiss any appeal when the party concerned fails to identify specifically any erroneous conclusion of law or statement of fact for the appeal.

Inasmuch as the applicant has failed to overcome the director's finding and has failed to identify specifically an erroneous conclusion of law or a statement of fact as a basis for the appeal, the regulations mandate the summary dismissal of the appeal.

As always in these proceedings, the burden of proof rests solely with the applicant. Section 291 of the Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1361.

ORDER: The appeal is dismissed.
