Guide to the
USCIS Naturalization Interview and Test Video

The USCIS Naturalization Interview and Test video is useful for self-study and classroom use. The online 16-minute video presents an overview of the naturalization process and test. In addition to general information, there are five simulated dialogues between USCIS officers and applicants during an interview. We recommend presenting the video to your class in sections, rather than all at once, particularly with students who need more listening comprehension practice. Focusing on one dialogue at a time is an effective way to do this.

Below are classroom activities highlighting the five dialogues. Intended for high beginning and low intermediate level classes, these activities focus on the four language skills—listening, speaking, reading, and writing. They allow students to practice specific language from a dialogue in a meaningful way. Each activity includes: 1) suggested teaching instructions, 2) student handouts or classroom materials, 3) an answer key and transcript, and 4) one 8.5” x 11” visual of the scene. When planning your class session, choose the dialogue that corresponds to a lesson that you have recently taught.

Remind your students that the interview situations shown in the video are examples of what an applicant may experience at an actual interview. However, each person’s case is different so every naturalization interview is unique. The purpose of this video and these activities is to give a general idea of what to expect.

Setting: The officer and the applicant are in the USCIS office. The officer gives the reading and writing tests to the applicant.

Discuss these questions about the reading and writing tests:

1. For the reading test, what does the applicant have to do?

Dialogue 5 — Taking the Reading and Writing Tests

Answer Key — Retell the Story

Notes to the Teacher: This dialogue begins at about 13:36 on the video. The officer is administering the reading and writing portions of the naturalization test to the applicant. Before beginning, remind your students that the reading and writing items in this simulated dialogue are not on the actual test.

Retelling is good oral practice for the students because it gives them an opportunity to describe what happened in their own words. Meanwhile, it helps them reinforce what they saw and practice real language with a partner.

Instructions for the Classroom:

- Discuss the Dialogue 5 Visual, “Taking the Reading and Writing Tests.”
- Distribute the handout to the students.
- Review the discussion questions together.
- Have the students form pairs or small groups.
- Play the scene two times.
- Have the students work in pairs to retell the story in their own words.

As an alternative for more advanced students, try a retelling activity with “4-3-2 minute” time limits. While working in pairs, have the students retell the story the first time within a four-minute time limit. Then have them repeat the same story within three minutes; then, in two. This requires that the students improvise and paraphrase a familiar story while improving their oral fluency.

Discussion Questions

1. For the reading test, what does the applicant have to do? Read a sentence aloud.
2. How many chances does the applicant get to read the sentence correctly? Three.
3. Where can you find the list of words for the reading test? At uscis.gov/citizenship.
4. For the writing test, what does the applicant have to do? Write a dictated sentence.
5. How many chances does the applicant get to write the sentence correctly? Three.
6. Where can you find the list of words for the writing test? At uscis.gov/citizenship.
Transcript for Dialogue 5
